Engineering Management, Inc. was retained by Georgia DNR as the Civil Engineer for various State Parks and Historical Sites.

Engineering Management, Inc. provide all Civil Engineering services on these projects. These services included the following:

- Conceptual site plans for owner’s review and approval
- Preparation of site grading, drainage and erosion control
- Hydrology study utilizing the SCS method to estimate stormwater runoff rates for pre-developed and post-development flows. The computer model “Hydroflow” was used to develop hydrographs and detention structure routings
- Design of an onsite stormwater piping system and stormwater detention structure showing connections to water and sewer services
- Preparation of a detailed landscape plan
- Permitting through the appropriate governmental agencies

Projects have ranged from extremely small to comprehensive in nature; and have included roads, water, sewer, site planning, expansions, rehabilitation, and various required services for infrastructure and facilities.
